Cleaning Instructions for Amarr Coastal Sections

In order to ensure years of trouble-free performance, the face and edges of the Amarr Coastal sections are UV-resistant and may be left in their natural white color. For general cleaning of unfinished doors, use warm water and a mild dishwashing liquid soap (such as Dawn or Ivory) with a sponge or soft bristle brush. Denatured alcohol (Isopropyl) and Mr. Clean erasers also work very well on small areas. DO NOT use cleaners containing acid or solvents like MEK, acetone or Toulon. For more stubborn situations, Soft Scrub, Clorox Cleanup, or Clorox Outdoors can be used. Do NOT use Simple Green all-purpose cleaner.

Factory Finished doors (colors other than white) should not be cleaned for 30 days after installation to ensure the heat reflective paint has fully cured. Factory finished doors may only be cleaned with mild dishwashing liquid soap and a sponge or soft bristled brush. Rinse thoroughly. This applies to doors field finished white as well.

Finishing Information for Amarr Coastal Sections

Customer finishing in any color other than white is done at the customers risk and will void the warranty.

Amarr Coastal doors are available in unfinished white vinyl or factory finished in 13 colors. Unfinished doors may be painted white using exterior white latex paint without voiding the warranty. Only true whites are acceptable, not off whites or colors with white in the name that are actually not white. One example is a popular color called Navaho White, which is actually tan. Before finishing with white, follow the cleaning instructions above and then wipe the sections with denatured alcohol before painting.

If you have purchased a factory finished door and after several years you would like to repaint the door or change the color of the door, please contact Fimbel ADS directly for assistance. Only Aqua SurTech DIY kits can be used to field finish a previously factory finished door. This heat reflective paint system is specifically formulated to form a molecular bond to vinyl surfaces and reflect UV rays, protecting the vinyl. Use of any other paint product is done so at the customers risk and will void the warranty. Again, all doors purchased unfinished white must remain unfinished or be painted with white exterior latex paint.
